ORACLE

RANDOLPH
HIGH SCHOOL

Randolph High School

70 Memorial Parkway

“First Class”

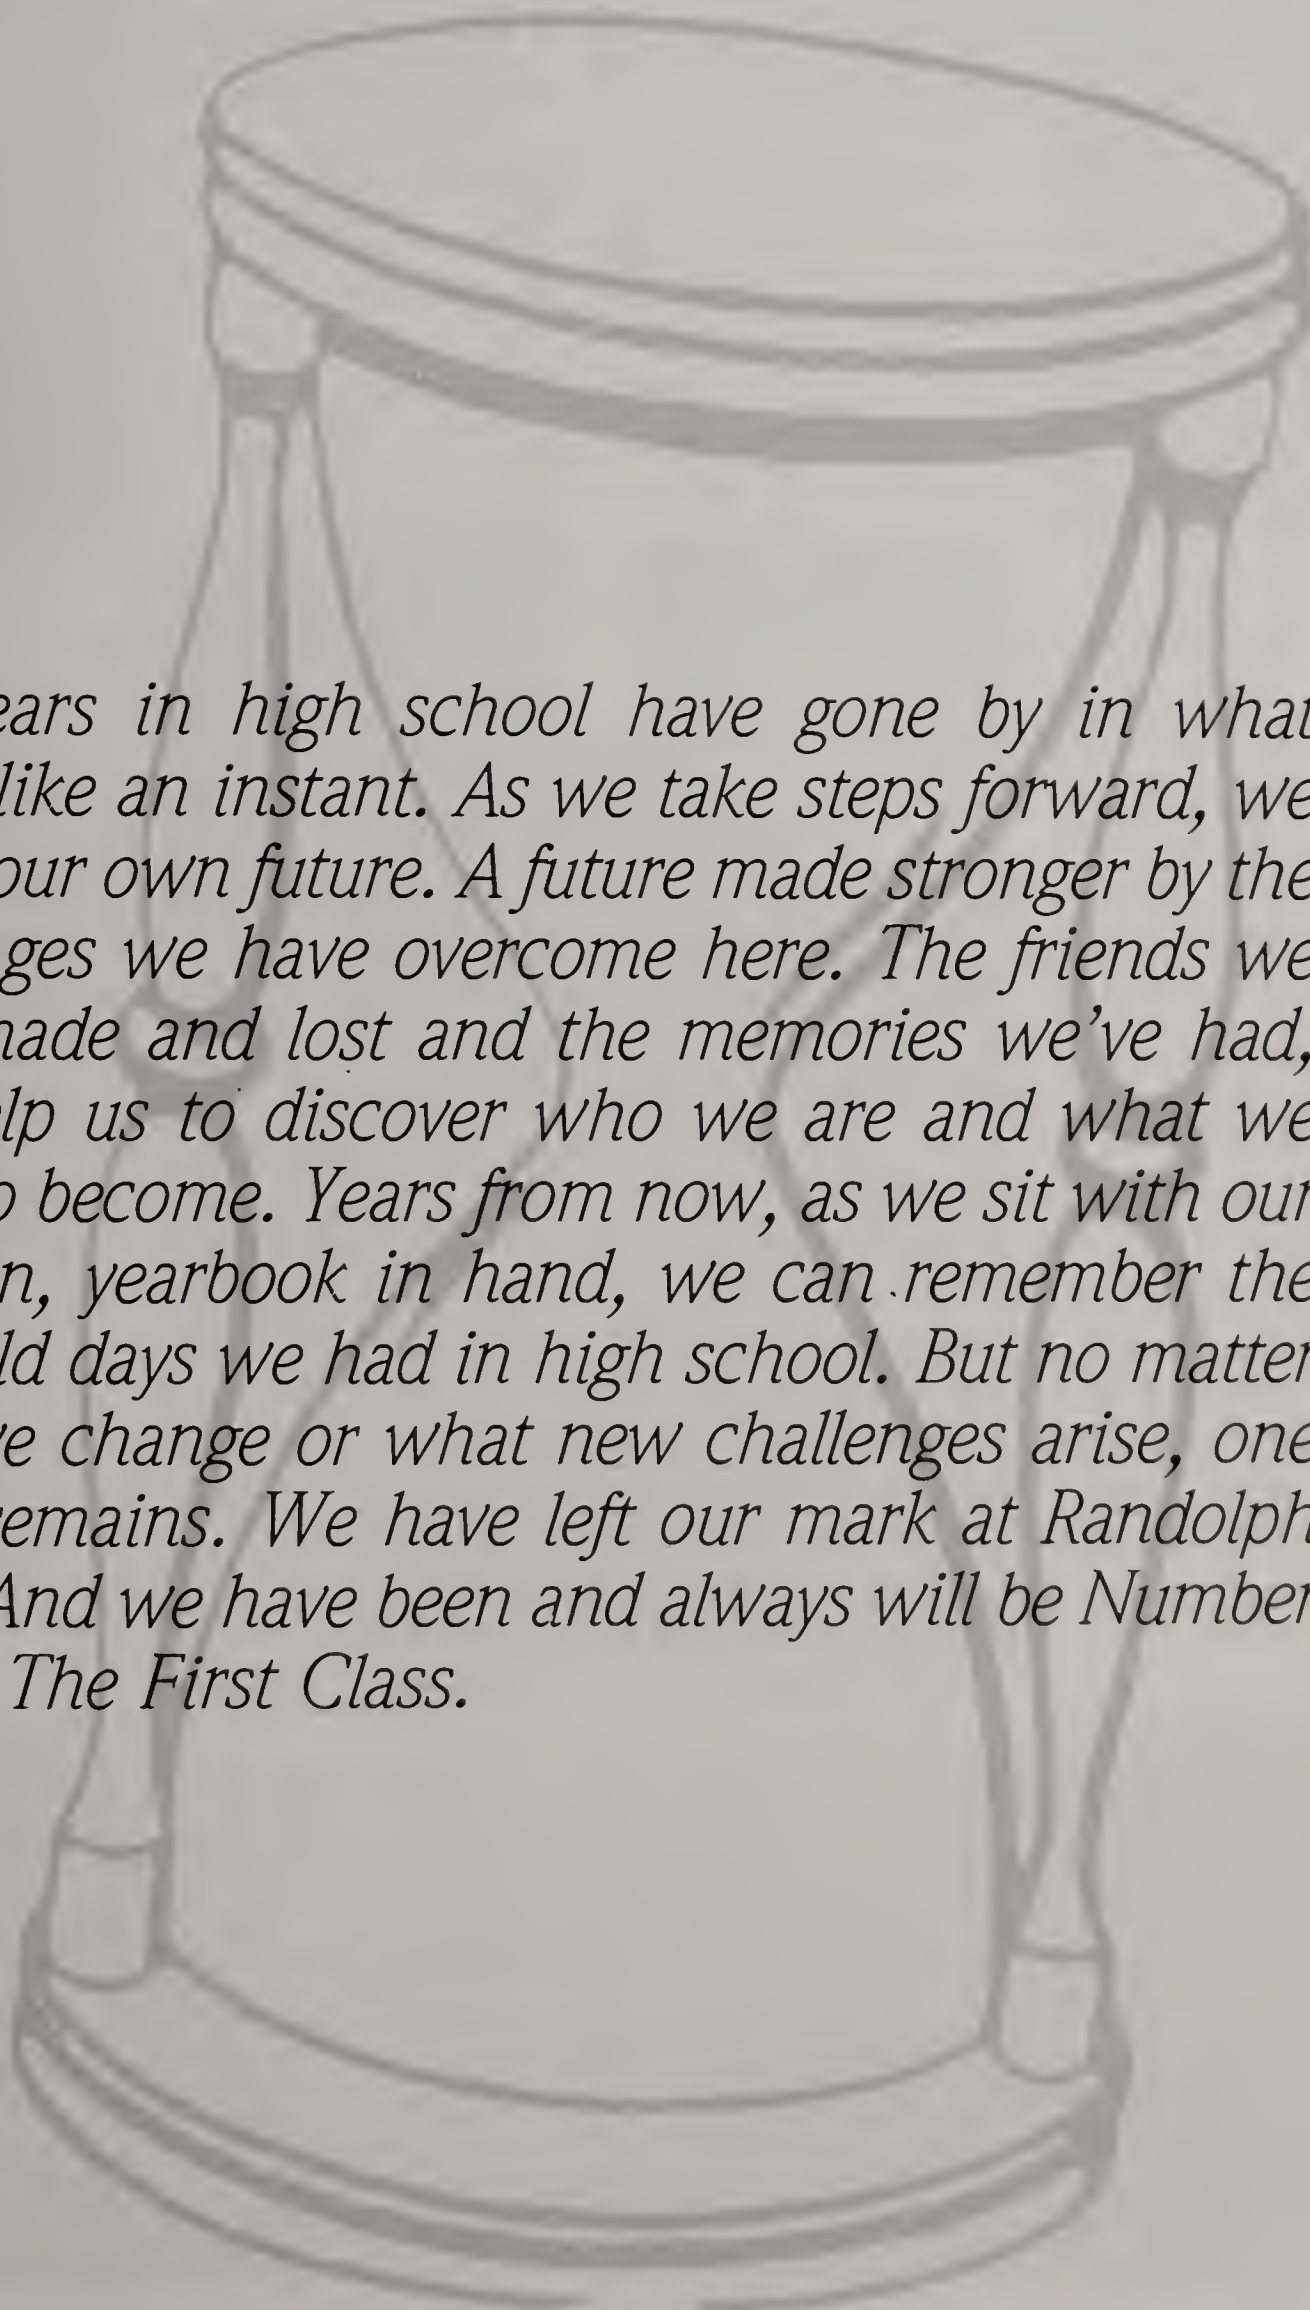

Dedication

"We will not forget the forgotten man."-Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Joe, as we've all come to call him, has been protecting the halls of Randolph High School for the past twelve years as a member of the security staff. He has also devoted countless hours of service to the Randolph community for over twenty years as both a police officer and member of the Board of Selectmen. As a security guard at Randolph High, it is Joe's job to check corridor passes, monitor the entrances and exits of the building, and, of course to break up that occasional fight. But Joe is not obligated to come into work every morning with a smile on his face, or with kind words for anyone he passes. And who could ever forget the pocketful of candy he always has to offer to anyone who looks as though they need a quick pick-me-up. Every high school has that one person that everybody knows and that everybody loves. For Randolph High, that person is Joe. He is one of the most wonderful and valuable assets to this high school, and too often that fact is overlooked. Therefore it is both an honor and a privilege for the Class of 2001 to recognize Joe as a great man and most importantly, a great friend. We dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Joseph Previti.

Our years in high school have gone by in what seems like an instant. As we take steps forward, we create our own future. A future made stronger by the challenges we have overcome here. The friends we have made and lost and the memories we've had, will help us to discover who we are and what we want to become. Years from now, as we sit with our children, yearbook in hand, we can remember the good old days we had in high school. But no matter how we change or what new challenges arise, one thing remains. We have left our mark at Randolph High. And we have been and always will be Number One... The First Class.

Vessel

Because another day brings to light what another day brings,
The anchor gripped for a second then slipped
And nothing of any consequence happened.

Because the motion must be constant,
Because the motion subsumes all that comes in contact,
The idea of the ship slides, and its function forgotten,

The day is no longer a ship but a vessel,
The descent undramatic, slow enough
To go unnoticed by those unacquainted

With the art of the voyage, but this vessel is leaning,
That shore no harbor to hope for.

To the Class of 2001:

Congratulations to you and your families as you graduate from Randolph High School. Six years, one-third of your life, has been spent at this school. The many experiences of these years have given you a solid foundation upon which to build the next phase of your life. I have had the honor and pleasure of working with you, as you grew from apprehensive adolescents to confident and sophisticated young men and women.

On behalf of the Randolph High School faculty and administration, I thank you for your leadership and contributions to our school and community. We all wish you success in your careers and much happiness. Hopefully, you will continue to pursue excellence and use your many talents to help others. Well done!

Sincerely,

To the Class of 2001.

An old Chinese proverb states that "The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step." As you approach the stage to receive your diploma, you will complete the important first step toward your destiny.

Your years at Randolph High School have hopefully helped you to develop the knowledge and skills you need to overcome any obstacles that may lie in your path.

Be happy, be healthy, be successful, be great!

Congratulations and bon voyage.

Sincerely,

Dear Members of the Class of 2001:

Congratulations upon having completed your course of studies at Randolph High School. On graduation day, you will receive that white piece of parchment paper which represents that all important first step in your climb towards higher educational and career endeavors. As you progress through life, continue to work hard, to overcome obstacles, and to strive for success.

Booker T. Washington once said: "I have learned that success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has overcome while trying to succeed." Keep his words in mind as you continue to seek your answers and goals.

In closing, I have personally enjoyed getting to know all of you and wish you success and happiness in life. Do not forget the friends that you have made and the many lessons you have learned here at Randolph High School. Most importantly, make certain that you keep in touch.

Sincerely,

John P. Giuggio

African American Club

The purpose of the African-American Club is to spread awareness of African, African-American and Caribbean cultures. The club promotes cultural and ethnic diversity, acceptance and tolerance. The club also advocates against racial and ethnic persecution as well as ignorance. Through this curriculum, the African-American Club hopes to influence the students of Randolph High School in a positive manner.

Asian Club

The Randolph Asian Club strives to be a cultural resource for the community's diverse youth population. It endeavors to learn about varied cultures and to share that knowledge with others through creative performances every year at Asian Night, with workshops and meetings that are open to anyone and everyone who would like to attend. Also fun showcases display its individual achievements centered around strides taken to educate others. Its main goal is to help banish stereotypes by embracing the world community and to label everyone under one title: Images of Humanity.

Amnesty International

"A letter written is a life saved." This is Amnesty International's theme. The phrase encompasses the goals of the organization, which is to help those who are wrongfully punished and to rally against tyranny and oppression. Amnesty International gives liberty and justice to people silenced by despotic governments. The club contributes numerous letters and petitions to Amnesty International USA, which are sent to government officials, generals, presidents, etc. It gives those who have been muted a voice so that they may speak and be heard.

The Student Alliance Against Racism and Violence strives to unite students of Randolph High School and produce a more comfortable environment. The Alliance meets monthly in order to discuss issues of prejudice, violence, religious and sexual preference, as well as other issues that members feel individualize them. After discussing these issues, the Alliance is more inclined to take measures against them. A nationally celebrated event known as World of Difference Week, is run by SAARV annually. The week is designed to open students' eyes to such issues as hate crimes, date rape, and peer pressure with hopes that the students will join in the stand against these plaguing problems. SAARV works to create an atmosphere where every students feels equal to and safe with his/her peers.

Students Against Destructive Decisions

Students Against Destructive Decisions, is a school based organization dedicated to addressing the issues of underage drinking, impaired driving, drug use, and other destructive decisions and killers of young people. SADD's mission is to provide students with the best prevention and intervention tools possible to deal with destructive decisions. SADD members sign a contract for life pledging their best effort to remain alcohol and drug free, to never drive under the influence, never accept rides from those who are under the influence, to always wear a seatbelt, and to do everything in their power to understand and communicate with others about potentially destructive decisions. Friends Don't Let Friends Drive Drunk.

Gay/Straight Alliance

The Gay/Straight Alliance strives to celebrate diversity, to defuse homophobia and to break down the walls of intolerance and prejudice by educating the students of Randolph High School on gay, lesbian, and bisexual issues. Although membership is strictly confidential, over the years, the GSA has increased its visibility within the school. The GSA meets once a week and welcomes students of any sexual orientation: gay, lesbian, bisexual, or heterosexual.

Peer Leadership

Peer Leadership is a program responsible for older high school students interacting with younger students. The goal of the program is to help these younger students learn effective decision making skills by introducing them to high school Peer Leaders who can model positive behaviors, listen impartially and share their experiences in a helpful way. The program consists of three days of training for the Peer Leaders. Following training, Peer Leaders conduct two or three sessions with the younger students. Students are chosen for Peer Leadership roles by recommendation. It is essential that these students exhibit positive behavior both in and outside of school, plus good decision making concerning school work, alcohol and drugs, sexuality and overall citizenship.

Tomorrow's Teachers Club

Mrs. Ellis, M. Beyer, J. Morris, D. McIver, T. Mazzucco, H. MacGregor

The Tomorrow's Teachers Club works together to share ideas on teaching and education. This recent addition to the RHS list of clubs has been working to invite guest speakers, to discuss important issues in education and to set up in-school surveys inquiring into the minds of students. The club has also lent a hand with the after-school tutoring program designed to aid students who have trouble with their school work. The Tomorrow's Teachers Club works hard to promote the education of the future.

RHTV is Randolph High School's personal television program used to update students and faculty about school news, club announcements and also lead the homerooms in "The Pledge of Allegiance." RHTV is an important tool that broadcasts information to the highschoolers. The students involved in RHTV benefit by learning better public speaking skills as well as developing skills in the use of audio and video production techniques.

Blue & White Banner

As a student-run organization, the Randolph Blue and White Banner, is made possible through the hard work of dedicated writers and publishers who donate their free time to reporting the news that matters. The newspaper staff this year consists of approximately twenty active staff members of all grade levels as well as several free-lance writers. In order to produce an edition of the paper, the editors work with one another to make sure that all articles coincide with the Blue and White Banner's reputation of effective news reporting. This year the Blue and White Banner continues to uphold its mission of maintaining a tradition of journalistic excellence here at Randolph High.

Math Team

Top: D. Collins, A. Tong, S. Au, P. Pang, J. Liang
Bottom: E. Chalfin, D. Jar, A. Couture-Rizzo, T. Tom

The Randolph High School Math Team competes annually in the Southeastern Mathematics League, made up of twenty four schools. For the past nine years, Randolph has placed among the top five schools in the league, qualifying for the all-state competition in each of these years and placing as high as second at both the Massachusetts and New England Competitions in the medium school division. The 2000-2001 team continues in that tradition of excellence.

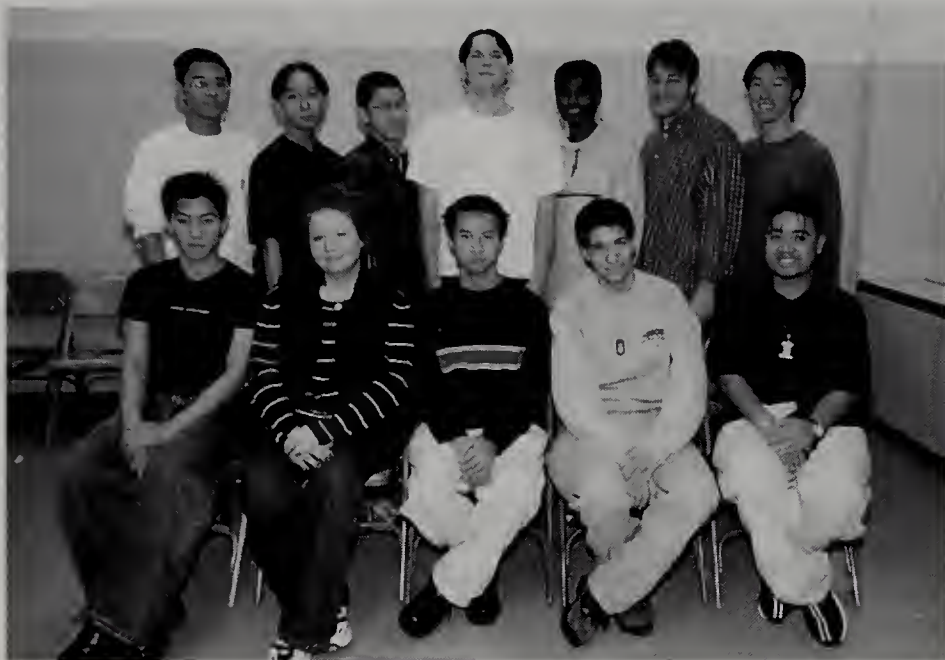

Chess Club

Despite what many people think, chess is not a dull game. In actuality it is a complex battle of strategy and wit in which players pit their intellects against one another. The Chess Club is dedicated to the game not the win. It is all about testing one's skills and the enrichment that it can provide.

Computer/Robotics Club

For three years the Computer/ Robotics Club has been running fast and strong. Over these past years the club has been constantly reforming in order to stay current in an everchanging computer world. The purpose of the Computer/ Robotics Club is to bring together the minds of all people interested in gaining knowledge about computer software or the construction of robotics.

Mock Trial

The goal of Mock Trial is to help students develop their critical thinking skills, their understanding of the judicial process, and their ability to present themselves in a public and competent manner. The program places students in a simulated courtroom situation where they must assume the roles of lawyers and witnesses in a hypothetical case. Students learn about applicable case law as well as essential critical thinking and public speaking skills.

Literary Magazine

The Literary Magazine seeks to encourage and publish original voices from Randolph High School in poetry, short fiction, and prose. Its goal is to publish one to two compilations of student writing per year. Another important goal of the magazine is to further develop the craft of regular members through sharing writing, dialogue about writing, and writing activities. Young writers are encouraged to develop their strengths and explore new types of writing with which they may be less familiar.

Scholarship, leadership, service and character are the four pillars of the National Honor Society which its members follow. The National Honor Society conducts monthly service projects to benefit the community. One of its major contributions is the recycling program set up within the high school. Others include the Rodman Ride for kids, USS Salem Haunted ship and caroling at Sunbridge nursing home. Last year the NHS was commended for its efforts with a statewide chapter award.

A.R.T

H. Ho, A. Couture-Rizzo, P. Nguyen, N. Hui, D. McIver, Mrs. Ellis

A.R.T. (Aesthetic Restoration Team) is a group of students who meet every Friday to paint murals as well as restore old murals throughout the school. A.R.T. is comprised of some amazingly talented artists who spend weeks planning and designing a mural. A.R.T. is also blessed with a group of volunteers who not only aid in the production of the paintings, but also develop skills in drafting and transferring ideas from paper into reality. With every mural it creates, the group hopes to make the school a little brighter and create a more pleasant atmosphere for learning.

Theater Guild

The Randolph Theater Guild is more than just a drama club, it is a way of life. Its members spend countless hours at rehearsals, theater exercises and fundraisers all to make a "dramatic moment." All along, it has never been about the play, but the meaning of the audience's reaction to the players. Each member gives more than one-hundred and ten percent to see a show go off just right.

Environmental Club

The Randolph High School Environmental Club works toward promoting awareness of current environmental issues to the school and community. Its goal is to improve the local and global environment. The Environmental Club encourages respect towards nature and the conservation of natural resources. It acknowledges the possible consequences of a world without environmental concern and it fights to accomplish the difficult goal of informing an often indifferent society about the environment.

This one hundred member choir meets in three different periods throughout each day. Three of its members were accepted to the Senior Southeastern Massachusetts District Festival this year. Due largely to chorus director, Mrs. Lynn-Marie Dandeneau's rigorous practices, every performance of Randolph High School's concert choir results in a standing ovation.

Under the direction of Ms. Meghan Burke, this group of talented students combine dance moves and vocals in order to produce finely polished performances for community and school shows. The high energy, up tempo singing and choreography make this both an athletically and musically challenging group to be selected for. The Show Choir's biggest performance is always the SRO "Pops" Concert in May.

The Pep Band is a group of volunteer players who rehearse two afternoons a week during the football season and perform at all home games. The purpose of the group is to promote school spirit at games and rallies

The RHS Jazz Band is a select music ensemble consisting of the top music students from grades eight through twelve who audition every fall. The band rehearses four hours per week and in addition, participates in various festivals and concerts throughout the year. The band regularly takes part in annual festivals such as the Berklee Jazz Festival, the UNH Jazz Festival as well as the District and All-State Festivals, often receiving gold medals, top ratings and soloist medals. The RHS Jazz Band has also received first place marks at the Hershey Park, PA and Orlando, FL music festivals. While in Orlando, FL in 2000, the band performed in the Magic Music Days at the Walt Disney World resort. Locally the band performs annually at non-profit fundraisers such as Concert for the Cure, Taste of Randolph, and the SRO "Pops" Concert in May.

This talented group meets during period three everyday throughout the school year. Its members must pass a prerequisite singing and theory test in order to be accepted into the class. Four of its members were accepted to the Senior Southeastern Massachusetts Districts Festival this year with one of them receiving an All-State recommendation. Their performances have been as spontaneous as strolling throughout the school singing holiday songs for faculty and students as well as outside Shaw's Supermarket during Music Booster fundraising. The A Cappella Choir works diligently at each practice in order to continually exceed the expectations of all it performs for.

Student Council

The Student Council is a student government organization, the members of which are elected by popular vote. In addition to those elected by popular vote, there are members who are appointed to the council due to outstanding leadership qualities. Finally there are ex-officio members such as the class presidents, representatives of the school committee, representatives of the Massachusetts advisory board, and regional and state officers. The function of the student council is to represent the student body, and to promote spirit and community service. The members of the student council learn valuable leadership skills from one another, that will be useful tools in the future.

"Throw them bows, baby!" -Nnenna Okereke

Shaun,

We wanted to let you know how proud we have been of you. As you go through life, remember that reaching goals is the result of the many steps that you take along the way. Our pride is not just in the final achievement; It is in all the work that you have done.

You have brought joy into our lives. Now enjoy yours!

Love, Mom and Mike

To my sisters of BAIHL, I wish you the best of luck in your futures. We've shared more than just classrooms-we've shared our lives. Real friendship comes from showing one's true self. May we always stay true to our friendships!

Heather: Thanks for all the bellows of laughter, the tears of sadness, and the warmth of friendship you've given me all these years. We'll be Snobbie & Shorty till the very end!

Brittany: You were more the rock that I leaned on for support than you'll ever realize. Your wit and humor will never stop amazing me. Thanks for slappin' sense into me when I needed it!

Amy: Though we've grown apart, I still cherish the times we all spent together. Best of luck with your studies. — Ivy

As co-editors of this yearbook we would like to offer our thanks to several generous people who were willing to sacrifice their time to assist us. Thank you to:

Ms. Sharon Ellis - (yearbook advisor) For organizing all the steps, contacting the production company, guiding all the editors and thus tediously proof-reading the entire book! You have sacrificed nearly all of your private time to help perfect our yearbook, and no words can describe how much we thank you.

Mr. Kaplan - (Business Advisor) For guiding the business team of our yearbook with your rich experience in the business world. You have taught our business team various methods to sell ads and to manage financial records. You have managed to keep our yearbook experience from becoming chaotic. With out your massive biceps to keep everything under control, the price of our book may have been several hundred dollars.

Miem Ha and her staff - (Business Team - A.Misiph, S.Preaster, J.Alves, M.Cabral) For giving up your time to sell advertisements and managing records, thus keeping the price of our yearbook low. And working with the Big Guy.

Vanessa Kavanagh - (Layout Editor) For sacrificing nearly all of your study halls in order to organize the graphics, pages, and pictures. You have made it possible for our ideas to be expressed in the yearbook with style!

Keri Rogers and her staff -(Picture Team - S.Fontaine and H.Ho) For taking pictures of sports, the school, people, and the major events of this year. And Keri for going through countless pictures to make sure that only the best photos have gone in to our yearbook.

Nda Nwachukwu - (Student Life Editor) besides getting us a great discount at CVS, you were always around when you were needed. Thank you for helping put together some of the best theme pages in our book.

Phil Nguyen - for selecting the possible covers of the yearbook and for designing the devil.

Andrew Tong and Peter Pang - for spending nearly a month to create the beautiful mosaic inside our yearbook. This makes our 2001 edition truly unique.

How could you miss our yearbook staff in the hallways and homerooms? There was always something to harass you about, whether it be surveys, pictures, or shout outs. Thanks for listening to us and not throwing things at us once we entered the room. And a special thanks to those people that came through in the end to help us create an awesome yearbook. Once again thanks to everyone who helped create this yearbook and we apologize if your name was not listed here.

As a Chinese adage says, No feast in this world lasts forever. We have reached the conclusion of our high school career, our path together and our excuse to be immature. In these years we have studied, struggled, achieved and grown up with each other. We have all been walking on the same path at RHS, but now it is time for us to separate and move on.

In the future, we will all pursue our personal goals. Although we will not be able to be together, through our memories and this little book we will always be connected. There are those of us that are anxious to move on and those that can't bear to leave, but we all have a common background. Whether you were here for a year, or since the 7th grade, you have had an impact on every student of this class. A part of you will remain in each of us forever. On behalf of the whole yearbook staff, I hope the teachers, faculty and students will achieve their personal goals and live a contented and fulfilled life.
